

Space for Encounters

Every year the team of Gollwitz Manor House organises international exchanges with young people from different countries and special meetings with survivors of the Holocaust.

The main focus is the exchange between German and Israeli youth and professionals several times a year. Additionally, we have regular contact with partner organisations in the United States, the countries of the European Union and other countries.

"Meeting people from different countries is an unforgettable experience. It creates connections between people and promotes intercultural learning by the participants."

We are active:

- in a world-wide exchange of young people and professionals (bi - tri and multilateral)
- in the work with survivors of the Holocaust
- in developing special short projects within the framework of youth work.
